The Genesis of the Garden Concept

Vita Sackville-West?s approach to garden design was deeply rooted in her artistic sensibilities. She envisioned Sissinghurst as a series of interconnected "rooms," each with its own character, mood, and plantings. This concept drew inspiration from her love of literature, art, and her travels across Europe, where she observed various styles of gardens and landscape architecture.

Design Principles and Techniques

- The "Garden Rooms": Vita divided the estate into intimate spaces, such as the White Garden, the Rose Garden, the Herb Garden, and the Moat Garden. Each was carefully curated to evoke specific atmospheres and serve different functions?be it reflection, entertainment, or cultivation.

- Use of Color and Texture: Her keen eye for color harmony and texture was evident in her plant choices. For example, the White Garden features predominantly white flowers, creating a serene and luminous space, while the vibrant borders of the herb garden stimulate the senses.

- Structural Elements: The incorporation of traditional features such as walls, arches, and terraces added architectural interest and defined spatial boundaries, enhancing the "room" concept.

- Eclectic Planting: She combined native and exotic plants, focusing on seasonal interest and biodiversity, which kept the garden vibrant throughout the year.
