While respecting confidentiality, Gonzaga's graduate programs often showcase exemplary proposals, such as:

- A qualitative study exploring community perceptions of mental health services.

- A quantitative analysis of educational interventions in local schools.
- An action research project aimed at improving organizational processes within Spokane nonprofits.

These examples share common traits:

- Well-defined scope.
- Clear research questions.
- Robust methodology.
- Alignment with Gonzaga’s values of service and social justice.

The Review and Approval Process

Faculty Review

- Submit the completed proposal via the university’s portal.
- Faculty assess for clarity, feasibility, and scholarly merit.
- Feedback may include revisions or requests for clarification.

Revisions and Resubmission

- Address comments promptly.
- Ensure the proposal aligns with university standards.

Final Approval

- Once approved, students can proceed with data collection and subsequent research phases.

Common Challenges and How to Overcome Them

| Challenge | Solution |

|-----|-----|

| Narrowing the research focus | Conduct preliminary literature review; consult advisor. |

| Insufficient methodology detail | Review sample proposals; seek methodological workshops. |

| Unrealistic timeline | Break tasks into smaller steps; adjust schedule as needed. |

| Ethical approval delays | Start IRB process early; prepare comprehensive documentation. |
